

Oscar's Book Prize is an annual prize for the best under-fives book of the year.

The prize is awarded in memory of Oscar Ashton and in partnership with Amazon, the Evening Standard and the National Literacy Trust.

Details of previous winners can be found here <http://www.oscarsbookprize.co.uk/winners>

The Oscar's Book Prize 2021 shortlist is as follows:

I'm Sticking with you by Smriti Halls and Steve Small (Simon and Schuster)

Meesha Makes Friends by Tom Percival (Bloomsbury)

Rain Before Rainbows by Smriti Halls and David Litchfield (Walker Books)

The Hospital Dog by Julia Donaldson and Sara Ogilvie (Macmillan)

The Littlest Yak by Lu Fraser and Kate Hindley (Simon and Schuster)

Would You Like A Banana? by Yasmeen Ismail (Walker Books)

The winner was announced in a virtual ceremony which can be watched here

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCITMNBIBpZ5JXPGJZquvd0A>

The Littlest Yak. Lu Fraser and Kate Hindley
ISBN: 978-1471182617 (Simon & Schuster) This is a heart-warming story that encourages small children to celebrate their own particular talents. Despite Gertie being the smallest yak in the herd she soon learns there are things only she can do, and her smallness can do something big after all.

